

Homecoming Kicks Off Prep@100 Celebrations

Celebrate!

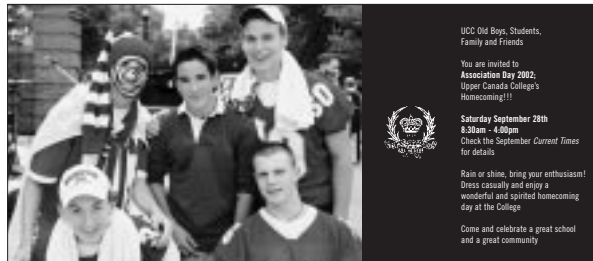

1902 ~ 2002

A-Day (UCC's annual homecoming celebration) takes on a very special focus this year. It not only marks the annual occasion for Old Boys, students, and parents of the school to gather together, but also marks the official launch of year-long celebrations at the Preparatory School as it turns 100 years old.

On Saturday, September 28 starting at 8:00 a.m. (see attached flap for the schedule of the day's events), the College opens its doors for day-long activities for alumni, parents and students that include a breakfast for all new parents and the parents of boarding students, tours of the campus, fabulous activities for children at "KidsZone", a "SoccerFest" at the Prep and a barbecue lunch. Also scheduled are musical performances by UCC's own Jazz Ensemble as well as visiting musicians including the St. Jamestown Steel Band, the Jay Jackson Musicians and the Sandy McIntyre Celtic Band. And what homecoming would be complete without sports? All day there will be events to either participate in or watch: the Hugh Wiley Run and Walk, volleyball, soccer and football matches against traditional UCC rivals, an open shinny hockey game, tennis tournament and ultimate (Frisbee) tournament and a tug-of-war. The day's sporting focus culminates in the Varsity Football team's game against Trinity College School, kicking off at 2:15 p.m. on the Oval.

Centenary festivities at the Prep also commence on A-Day with "Then & Now", an art exhibit of past and recent work by Prep alumni in George Weston Hall at the Prep. The exhibit will be open for viewing over the A-Day weekend only: Saturday and Sunday, September 28-29. It will feature the works of twenty-two diverse artists including Michael Snow '48, Peter Dako '78, architect David Sisam '63 and the Moriyama brothers '80 and '82. The show will touch on the evolution of the artists' progress by juxtaposing their current work with that of their early years at UCC. "Then & Now" will include painting, mixed media, film and video as well as architectural renderings.

Please see the full schedule of Prep@100 events on pages 2/3 for further information about the year-long celebration.

Prep alumni take note! As the College community plans for the Prep centenary events – in particular the 100th Birthday Dinner on Saturday, November 2nd – we want to be sure that all Prep Old Boys are included. Please don't be left out! Old Boy Andrew Harvie '73 is compiling information for us and would like to know:

1. Did you attend the Prep?
2. What year did you start?
3. What was your last year at UCC?

Please send your reply today to Andrew Harvie at aharvie@sympatico.ca, phone him at 416-410-3319, or send him a fax at 416-482-5052.

Governors Agree: UCC to be a Green School

At their June, 2002 meeting the College's Board of Governors unanimously approved an innovative and far-reaching initiative that "has the potential to transform UCC". The Board has put its full support behind a Green School program that will, over the next few years, see UCC become a community leader in the areas of environmental education, monitoring and sustainability.

In keeping with UCC's Aims and Objectives and Strategic Plan, the Board recognizes that the College has an important role to play in addressing global environmental issues. Together with community service, leadership and internationalism, environmental responsibility should be one of the four hallmarks of a UCC education. By becoming a Green School, UCC can better address global environmental challenges both as an organization and through its students and graduates.

The goal of the Green School initiative is to transform the UCC experience and culture in order to achieve four outcomes:

1. Ecological Literacy: To develop, in each student, a comprehensive understanding of the basic patterns and processes by which nature sustains life and how these core ecological concepts relate to sustainable human communities.

2. Learning It by Living It: To model as an organization how core ecological concepts can be applied to create sustainable human communities.

3. Environmental Ethic: To develop an environmental ethic in all members of the UCC community.

4. Contributing to Society: To fulfill the College's commitment to be a private school with a public purpose through research, publications and outreach in the areas of outdoor and environmental education, environmental monitoring and sustainability.

As plans for executing this initiative evolve, the College hopes to hire three new staff members to facilitate the achievement of the Green School goals. They will work in a matrix model with faculty and staff at the Prep, Norval and the Upper School and will develop a three-pronged focus to green the school – organizational behaviour, curriculum and facilities.

As Green School plans progress, further announcement will be made. In the meantime, please address any questions to Innes van Nostrand, Associate Vice-Principal, Advancement. He can be reached at 416-488-1125, ext. 2236 or at ivannostrand@ucc.on.ca.

What Do Those White Signs Mean?

Recent visitors to the College will have seen the public notification signs that have been erected on our property. This spring Upper Canada College filed an application with the City to amend the zoning by-law currently applicable to the College site. The signs appeared as part of this application and invited our immediate neighbors to a consultation meeting that took place on August 13.

The purpose of UCC's application is to clarify the existing by-law with respect to the use of the property as a private academic institution. While there is no specific development proposal related to this application, the meeting provided an opportunity to discuss the College's long-term vision for improvements to the school and the preservation of existing green space.

This application has been filed as a result of inconsistencies in the historical planning designations for the property that mean that the private school zoning permission does not extend to the whole campus. These divided zoning categories produce an unusual

Double Cohort Graduates shine in IB results

The graduates of the Class of 2002, consistent with their predecessors, have achieved outstanding IB results. In a year that saw 80% more graduates than usual due to the double cohort class, UCC is particularly proud to announce that ninety-nine percent of the class achieved the IB Diploma, with the younger members of the cohort acquitting themselves just as well as their older classmates. The school's median score was 34 out of a possible 45 points. To put that number in a broader context, the world average for the last several years was 31. The 2002 world average will be announced this fall. Two young men – Jonathan Faria and John Blickstead - achieved perfect scores of 45. The entire UCC community extends its congratulations to the Class of 2002.

situation whereby simple changes to the school and its programs precipitate the need for planning approvals. UCC's application, suggested by the City Planning Department, will correct this situation by normalizing the zoning and extending the private school use designation to all of the College's land.

Annual Fund

The 2001-2002 Annual Fund raised over $800,000 from Old Boys, parents, faculty and staff, past parents, grandparents and friends. The majority of gifts (about 41%) were directed to the College Priority Fund, which provides funding for start-up projects and areas demonstrating the greatest need. After the College Priority Fund, the most popular areas of support were the UCC Scholarship Fund (11%), general athletics (5%) and The Hamish Simpson Scholarship Fund (4%). Of course, Annual Fund gifts can be directed toward any area within the school and every gift enhances the student experience. Other options for directing annual fund dollars were Community Service, Horizons and the Prep Technology Fund. Thanks to everyone who supported the Annual Fund in 01-02.

Tara Wilson, Manager of Annual Giving, reports that the 2002-2003 campaign is well underway with a goal of raising over $900,000.

Brad Adams to head College Admissions

Principal Doug Blakey is pleased to announce that Brad Adams, currently Head of the Upper School, Student Affairs, will be readjusting his responsibilities to include both Prep and Upper School Admissions as well as Enrolment Planning. He will take on these responsibilities in addition to those he has in Student Affairs. "Brad is eminently qualified and experienced to do this," says Principal Blakey. "We are delighted that we have a very good talent in admissions right here 'at home'. With Brad being backed up by Reid Barter, Sandra Hives, Chantal Lacourciere Kenny, Andrea Mozarowski-Palijenko, David Mumby and Dina Nikolakakis, we have a very strong Admissions team indeed." Brad's new title is Head of the Upper School, Student Affairs and College Enrolment.

Nancy and Richard Hamm to be Council of 1829 Co-Chairs

Kelly Meighen, Vice-Chair of the College's Board of Governors, responsible for Advancement is delighted to announce that current parents Nancy and Richard Hamm have agreed to serve as the first-ever Co-Chairs of the Council of 1829. "I cannot think of any two people who would be a better choice to serve in this role," says Dr. Meighen. "The Hamm Family has a strong profile as ambassadors for Upper Canada College. Their track record in many volunteer jobs and their consistent enthusiasm make them a great team."

The Council of 1829 is the College's donor recognition society for individuals, foundations and corporations who give $1000 or more annually. By establishing the new role of Co-Chairs, it's hoped that this important group with its role of leadership giving can be expanded.

Nancy and Richard are long-time members of the Council of 1829 and are also committed volunteers for UCC. Nancy is a past president of the Parent's Organization, was Co-Chair of The Once in a Blue Moon Auction in 1997 and was a member of the Association Board. She currently serves on the College's Board of Governors. Richard and Nancy are parents of Stephen '99, Peter 2002 and Patrick 2003.

First Class graduates from Horizons Program

At a July graduation ceremony filled with music, curriculum presentations, slide shows and many joyful embraces, 24 Horizons students became the first group to complete the three-year Summer Program and graduate. Horizons students, selected by their teachers and principals, enter the tuition-free summer school program at UCC after completing Grade 6. They are invited to attend for 3 consecutive summers. The 2002 graduates (who are now entering Grade 9) have completed an academic program which focussed on learning Canadian History through drama, using inquiry skills in advanced mathematics, studying Latin as part of English literature and enhancing their understanding of forces, structures, mechanical efficiency and global issues through hands-on projects. Note-taking skills, posing questions, critical thinking and reflective writing have been key components of their program. Plans are now underway for a high school support and scholarship program for these students.

Director Nanci Goldman explains that The Horizons Program at Upper Canada College captures all the elements of an exemplary public-purpose initiative. It is a multi-faceted partnership program with the Toronto District and Toronto Catholic School Boards and involves both UCC students and students from Regent /Moss Park, Cabbagetown and Parkdale. Throughout the school year, more than one third of UCC's Upper School students meet once a week to tutor students from inner city schools. The UCC tutors work in teams of 25 to 30, each team linking with an entire class and its teacher at one of the designated schools. In addition, boys coach hockey teams from these schools and parents volunteer their time assisting teachers.

Also honoured at the Summer Program graduation ceremony were Senator Michael Meighen and Dr. Kelly Meighen, lead benefactors and committed volunteers to the Horizons Program since its inception. Kelly Meighen is a member of the Upper Canada College Board of Governors. She and Senator Meighen are parents of a UCC alumnus (Hugh 2001) and current student (Max 2007).

The exhibition is on display in George Weston Hall throughout the A-Day weekend. All A-Day attendees are encouraged to take some time during the weekend to visit the Prep, see the exhibit and celebrate the Prep's birthday!

In case of rain, lunch will be served in the Upper Dining Hall. KidsZone will be held in the Old Gym and Snack Shack will operate inside the front door of the Upper School.

Update: Legal Matters

In November 2002, the preliminary hearing with respect to the criminal charges against former UCC teacher Douglas Brown is expected to get under way. The hearing may last several weeks; while there is a publication ban on any evidence, news about the history of the charges and the hearing itself will likely be covered in the media. In addition, the College has been served with two civil lawsuits by lawyers representing former students involved in the Brown case. The school's legal counsel is reviewing these claims and, at this time, no hearing date has been set. However since these suits have been filed with the court, they are now in the public domain and may receive media coverage during the coming year.
